Design meets Excellence

When form meets exacting design, the result is a bathroom that is so much more than a functional space. At Duravit, the clarity of clean lines and our collective expertise meld to create precision and refinement in every detail. The materials are carefully selected, the surfaces precisely crafted, the features so seamlessly integrated that they feel completely natural. This synergy sets a tone of tranquil elegance and creates an atmosphere where design and function naturally complement one another. Design becomes attitude, and craftsmanship becomes excellence that can be seen, felt and appreciated in everyday life.

Design

Many years of collaboration with internationally renowned designers have cast Duravit's distinctive design ethos. Shapes, proportions and details follow a common logic that has evolved into a distinctive design identity. At the core of every bathroom collection is a design aesthetic that is both timeless and uncompromisingly committed to quality and durability.

Excellence

At Duravit, quality is born out of skilled craftsmanship, experience and precision. The same precise attention to detail is maintained at every stage, from the careful processing of the raw material to the final rigorous quality control. Many skilled hands combine their knowledge and attention to detail to create products that prove themselves in daily use and stand the test of time. Excellence is not measured by flashy display but reveals itself in the quiet certainty that something has been crafted with true dedication.

Performance

Comfort often resides where it is barely noticeable. A flush operates powerfully and quietly, surfaces remain effortlessly clean and controls are intuitive to use. Many of these features work in the background – which is precisely why they make everyday life noticeably easier. Duravit delivers performance through sophisticated functionality, precision technology and a commitment to improving every element with everyday use in mind. The aim is to enhance comfort, safety and a tangible sense of well-being. Behind this is the combined effort of many people who believe that true quality of life starts with the small things.

Engagement

Duravit's Brand Ambassador

Duravit has been Marta Kostyuk's official sponsor since 2026, forming a strong partnership that combines sporting excellence with premium design. Marta's discipline, control and dynamic playing style reflect Duravit's commitment to innovation, quality and refined aesthetics. Together, they express a shared dedication to progress and quality that ensures lasting success.

What keeps you motivated in the demanding world of professional tennis?

Tennis is a great journey that allows me to grow both as a player and as a person. Training, travel and competition present daily challenges that push me to uncover my full potential. Progress often feels subtle, so I focus on meaningful improvements rather than shifting rankings. My coach and my husband support my growth every day, as do the sponsors and partners that I currently have.

What draws you to meaningful brand collaborations like Duravit?

As with Wilson, meaningful partnerships open up entirely new learning experiences for me. When Duravit told me during our first meeting that they wanted me to design my own bathroom, I thought, "Your expectations of me are high, but I appreciate that." I love working with passionate people, so collaborating with Duravit felt instantly right.

How do your surroundings influence focus?

I choose environments that help me reset mentally amid busy routines. Being in places I truly enjoy restores my energy, balances my workload and keeps my motivation strong. This helps me to stay focused on the court and perform at my best.

What have you learned about balancing intensity with recovery?

Trusting the process is essential, especially when supported by the right team and partners. Challenging periods reveal areas of growth beyond the physical and remind me to slow down with intention, turning focus into long-term strength. Recovery is crucial for strong performance on court; taking small escapes from daily routines helps me reset and recover quickly.

What defines your ideal bathroom?

When I imagine my dream bathroom, I see a separate shower and bathtub for flexibility, double sinks for shared use, and adjustable mirror lighting for skincare. Calm, subtle tones are essential, together with a sense of space and ease that reflects the quiet luxury found in great hotel bathrooms. And I definitely need generous storage for my cosmetics, towels and bathrobes.

Which aspect of the Duravit x Collection One impressed you the most?

What I liked the most were the sharp details and the harmonious balance of the design. Nothing feels overdone or overwhelming. I love that clarity. It connects beautifully to tennis, where elegance and precise, aesthetic movement define the sport.

Residential architecture by Studio F. A. Porsche

Studio F. A. Porsche's design for the premium prefabricated home manufacturer Griffner shows how a clean design language, precise lines and an understated aesthetic can imbue contemporary architecture with a calm presence. The "Floating House" is based on a systematic construction principle using authentic and durable materials.

This ethos is also reflected in the bathroom: the Collection One by Duravit translates the architectural vision into every detail and defines the space through minimalist forms, balanced proportions and a meticulously curated selection of materials.

Sculptural elegance

Gentle rounding. Clear lines.

The Collection One opens up a new dimension of contemporary bathroom culture. Clean lines and gentle curves complement each other to create a harmonious design language that exudes a calm, organic presence. The iconic countertop basin exemplifies this approach: its sculptural silhouette is precisely crafted, right down to the last detail. Its harmoniously curved form invites touch, while its essential materiality conveys tranquillity and durability. Design becomes a moment of deceleration – pared-down, timeless and created for people who not only aspire to excellence, but in fact embody it.

Perfection in every detail

The Collection One demonstrates its quality in the careful detailing of each element. The wall-mounted washbasin and matching furniture form a finely harmonized ensemble featuring an impressively sleek design and high-quality finishing.

Every surface is carefully positioned, and every proportion adheres to a clear design logic. The range of options opens up diverse possibilities without compromising the collection's distinct design ethos – a bathroom series defined by its exceptional precision and craftsmanship.

Clarity as a design principle

The toilet in the Collection One takes center stage as a design object in its own right. Its finely modeled contours and harmonious overall appearance demonstrate how consistently the design concept of the series has been translated. The design is restrained yet full of character – making it an object that transcends its function and seamlessly embodies the aesthetic.

Innovative technologies, optimized hygiene standards

On the technical side, the toilet remains true to the pursuit of excellence. In the Hero Edition, its optimized, highly efficient flushing technology and refined surface ensure unimpeded water flow and effortless cleaning. The result elevates hygiene and comfort to a new level.

Design that puts its stamp on the whole room

The Collection One opens up a wide range of possibilities for individual room design. A variety of sizes, proportions and color options can be precisely combined and effortlessly adapted to diverse floor plans and styles. The result is an interior that exudes calm, clarity and contemporary confidence. This is a design that defines spaces – noticeably, yet never loudly.

Subtle nuances, natural tones, pure aesthetics

Subtle nuances and natural tones lend the Collection One a distinctive air of lightness. The finely tuned combination of shapes, surfaces and color options allows the spaces to appear open while retaining a clear structure.

Transitions remain smooth and proportions balanced, creating an overall impression that melds modernity with restraint – an aesthetic suited to a variety of living environments while also retaining its calm, precise elegance.

Shapes with a presence of their own

Available in a range of sizes and versions, the bathtub in the Collection One integrates effortlessly into diverse room architectures. Its clear design language and harmonious proportions create a sense of lightness, opening up the space and imbuing it with a calm presence. This clarity transforms the bathroom into a serene retreat that leaves everyday life behind and nurtures a feeling of inner peace.

The design studio

In 1963, Ferdinand Alexander Porsche designed an iconic sports car, the Porsche 911, that still stands out today. It illustrates his design principles: optimizing function, reducing form to the essentials, and overcoming the familiar to discover new and better solutions. The legendary Porsche 911's design not only shaped automotive history, but also influenced the global perception of timeless design.

"Our design philosophy follows the approach of our founder, Ferdinand Alexander Porsche. It is less a formal language and more an attitude. The focus is on function and interaction, while the design remains purist and sensual."

Henning Rieseler, Studio F. A. Porsche

The fact that the Studio F. A. Porsche, which once designed the Porsche 911, is also behind the design of the Collection One gives the product design a distinctive creative signature and a high design standard. Studio F. A. Porsche has designed a bathroom series for Duravit comprising clear, minimalist elements that exude a sense of naturalness. Providing an escape from the hustle and bustle of everyday life, the clear design language transforms the bathroom into a private space for relaxation. Inspired by stones gently smoothed by water, the design of the series focuses on natural materials with tactile surfaces, such as wood, ceramic, and natural stone.
